

PROMINENT PEOPLE OF NORTONVILLE

Join Hands And Hearts In The Sacred
Bonds Of Wedlock. Both Well Known Here

Childe's dart soared high and sure When it pierced the heart of this maiden fair and pure.

A friendship which spans their childhood days and on to this glad day has culminated in the nuptial in sacred wedlock of Miss Frances Mae Trathen and Mr. John Carr Wilkins.

The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. Gordon, minister of the Christian church, in his study in the church at Madisonville Wednesday afternoon, January twenty-nine.

It was a quiet, but impressively beautiful occasion. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jabez H.
Trathen, of Oak Hill, and was lovely in her suit of golden brown and with the exquisite blush lent by the groom's gift of bride roses. Made a sweet picture which will linger in memory. The groom, a young man with a promising future, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamon Wilkins, of Nortonville.

After the marriage the young people went to Nortonville, where they were welcomed by the groom's mother, father, and sister, Mrs.
Chas. Trathen, and entertained at a family dinner. They will spend a day at the bride's home and after February 1st be at home at Beech Creek, Ky.

The best wishes of a host of friends attend this young couple. May all good at all seasons be theirs.

The February American Magazine

The February American Magazine contains a wonderful letter by Allen Pinkerton, never before published, in which the famous detective relates his connection with the first plot to assassinate Lincoln. Lincoln was on his way to Washington in February, 1861, and the plan was to kill him in Baltimore while he was passing through that city on the way to Washington where he was to be inaugurated. Pinkerton discovered the plot, saved Lincoln's life, and tells the whole story in this letter which was written in 1866 but never reached the public until The American Magazine got hold of it.

Brand Whitlock, Mayor of Toledo, Ohio, writes the second chapter of his personal reminiscences and tells some remarkable stories about James G. Blaine, Governor Altgeld, and the Whitechapel Club of Chicago, which in its time was probably the most famous and most interesting Bohemian club in the world.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson begins a new department entitled "Health and Horse-Power." A New York policeman writes the "Dairy Of a Cop." Albert J.
Nock tells about Coatesville, Pa., —a town whose citizens burned a man alive and then did nothing about it. Augustus Post writes the "Experience of an Airman."

An excellent assortment of fiction, together with four departments filled with good reading, completes an unusual number.

LONG DISTANCE WIRELESS

Received From Eiffel Tower And Honolulu At Small Florida Stations

Jacksonville, Fla.—The wireless station on Anastasia Island, near here, has been in communication with Eiffel Tower in Paris, and Honolulu. Long distance tests of the apparatus have been going on for days with the greatest success. The operator has copied messages from Honolulu, 4,800 miles; Clifton Island 5,100 miles; Eiffel Tower, Paris, 5,400 miles, as well as Colon and stations in the West Indies.

The time signals from Eiffel Tower each day at 6 o'clock, being midnight at Paris, are recorded here.
These are sent from Paris automatically by an ingenious switching arrangement from the master clock under the Paris tower. Daily Arlington station at Washington, also is heard sending time for the benefit of ships at sea.

The work of this station, is considered marvelous owing to the light power used as compared with other stations.

FORESTRY BOARD

Plans Free Nurseries To Be Established
Throughout State

Frankfort, Ky., Jan., 20.—Tree nurseries will be started by the Department of Forestry this spring. At a meeting of the State board, held in the office of Gov. McCreary Saturday, an offer of a tract for a nursery at Louisville was made by the State Fair Board and a free site also was offered on the Amsterdam road, near Covington. State Forester J. E. Barion will inspect them, and if they are suitable he expects to get his seed beds planted this spring.

Forester Barton said the trees selected probably will be ash, hickory, tulip or poplar, oak, lucust and evergreen.

The board invited proposals of sale or gift of lands for establishing forest reserves. It is expected that some of the mining companies in the mountains, whose lands have been denuded of timber, will offer tracts for this purpose, as they seem to realize the advantage to them of the reforestation of the watersheds. Trees from the State nurseries will be furnished to land owners at cost for planting.

The board postponed the election of an Assistant State Forester indefinitely. Present at the meeting were Gov. McCreary, Commissioner of Agriculture, J.
W. Newman, Joseph Kastie, director of the Experiment Station, Mrs. Mason Maury, of Louisville, and W. H. Mackey, of Covington.

A Committee of gentlemen of this city members of the Elks Lodge in Madisonville went around the city yesterday afternoon soliciting clothing and money for the flood sufferers at Ashbyburg. They got quite a lot of clothing and over $25.00 in a short time. These people are in need and there are 500 people in 17 houses and the Elks Lodge in Madisonville has donated $300.00 for their benefit.

Futile Arguments.

There was once an orator, Themistocles, and as he reasoned a Colonel Boonegas in the audience hurled a stone at the speaker. He took it up and showed it to the audience with the remark: "A weighty argument, but not convincing," and the arguments of some are like the stone of the fellow in the crowd.

The Truth About the High Water at Evansville

The truth about the flood situation at Evansville is that all of the best parts of Evansville that is to say, the business, manufacturing and almost all of the residence sections on the city, are entirely free from damage.
The Oakdale section is a cheap suburb built of low ground close to the river bottoms where lots can be purchased at a nominal price and is inhabited to a great extent by those who were attracted by the cheapness of property.

Evansville is a high and dry city and the damage to the business by high water is entirely nominal and is caused solely by loss of business from surrounding territory, some of which is low ground but which is more than made up by the increased fertility of the river bottom land which rents for as high as $20.00 per acre per annum.

Evansville has never been and never will be flooded as some of the other cities along the river for the reason that our Water Street even at the present high stage of water is not submerged and the stores and shops are thronged with customers as usual.

Any resident of Evansville will confirm this statement and we hope that all former residents who are located in other cities of the country will do their duty to their home town by telling their neighbors the truth about the high water conditions at Evansville.

WILL SEARCH FOR RADIUM IN ROCKIES

Government Convinced Mountains Are Regular Storehouse

Washington, D. C. Jan. 27—Apparently convinced that the Rocky Mountains constitute a storehouse for radium, the most precious of all metals, the United States Bureau of Mine proposes to increase its force of radium hunters in that section of the country. The Civil Service Commission today announced that examinations would be held February 26, next, to supply the demand of the Bureau for junior chemists in radio-activity. The successful candidates will be stationed at the branch office of the service in Denver, Col., at salaries ranging from $1,080 to $1, 440 a year.

Considerable versatility is required in applicants for the position for they must not only have a grasp of radio-activity, but they must be grounded in inorganic physical chemistry, speak French and German, and have a working acquaintance with a blow pipe.

In every home where there are children there should be a bottle of WHIT'S CREAM VERMIFUGE.
It destroys worms and acts as a tonic in the debilitated system. Price 25c per bottle. Sold by St. Bernard partment.

Attractive Vase.
An effective centerpiece for the breakfast table is a flower vase of wood brown bamboo. They come in a variety of shapes. Inside are sheet iron or metal receptacles to hold the water. Most any flower shows to advantage against the dull brown of the bamboo. Many of these vases are loosely woven and dull red or green pottery peeks through the interstices. They may be found in any oriental store.

A RECORD BREAKING SALE

Mr. Dulin, of the Dulin Store, is Interviewed.

"Mr. Dulin, would you mind to tell us how much you sold Friday and Saturday?"

"Well we rarely ever give out figures relative to our business, but this was a record-breaking sale. We sold a little over thousand dollars, and so far we know this is by far the best cash sale ever made in Hopkins county or this end of the state, for that matter in two consecutive days. All day it was simply a question of how many we could wait on. There never was before, and probably never will be again, another such an opportunity for a big sale. For over a quarter of a century Mr.
Bishop has been building a reputation for handling the best merchandise money could buy. Since I was a boy the name 'Bishop' on a garment or a pair of shoes signified high-grade—or at least honest value. So we say we had a right to expect a big business with this immense stock of merchandise, with its known reputation for quality, coupled with our splendid facilities and room for handling big crowds and our known reputation for doing just what we will.

"When we advertised hundreds of good suits at one and two dollars and thousands of good shoes at one dollar, the people who trade with us and know best, knew they would find the just as represented.

"Yes we have about one hundred of the suits left this morning. All of them sizes 33, 34 and 35 all the smaller and larger sizes are sold. We can still fit most any boy in his teens and a small man.

"We still have a big stock childrens shoes at 25c, 50c 75c. Of the men's and we fine shoes that we put out to at $1.00 we have left in the dies over one hundred pairs, 2, 2 1/2, 3, 3 1/2, 6, 7 and 8. We have about seventy-five pair of men's sizes 9, 10 and 11, still have a good stock of 1/2 collars at 5c; the 25c and 50c neckties at 3 for 25 cents, the childrens' $1.00 hats for 25c and 50c caps for 10c, and hundreds of men's $2.00 and $3.00 hats at choice for 50c and 75c.

"While the goods we have referred to probably represent some of the biggest price reductions, they do not in our judgment represent the biggest values or bargains we are offering. We consider the biggest and best values we are giving our people are in the stocks and stocks of the crisp, new, up-to-date merchandise that is worth one hundred cents on the dollar of an old man's money and day, which we are selling at about half of its real value."

TEMPERANCE NOTES

(Conducted by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

WHY A DRUMMER SWORE OFF

(By Samuel G. Smith.)

Artistic Spectacles of Father Trying to Pawn His Baby's Shoes Was

Not Much to Write Home

"No, I won't drink with you today," said a drummer to his companion, as they settled down in a drinking car and passed the bottle. "The fact is, boys, I have quit drinking. I've sworn off."

"What's the matter with you, old boy?" sang out one. "If you've quit drinking, something's up. What is it?"

"Well, boys, I will tell you. Yesterday I was in Chicago. Down on Clark street a customer of mine keeps a pawnshop, in connection with other business. I called on him, and while I was there a young man, not more than twenty-five, wearing threadbare clothes and looking as hard as if he hadn't seen a sober day for a month, came in with a little package in his hand. He unwrapped it and handed the article to the pawnbroker, saying, "Give me ten cents." And, boys, what do you suppose it was? A pair of baby's shoes—little things with the buttons only a trifle soiled, as if they had been worn only once or twice.

"Where did you get these?" asked the pawnbroker. "Got 'em home," replied the man, who had an intelligent look and the manner of a gentleman, despite his sad condition. "My wife bought 'em for our baby. Give me ten cents for 'em—I want a drink."

"You had better take the shoes back to your wife; the baby will need them," said the pawnbroker. "No—she won't, because she's dead. She's laid to rest at home now—died last night." As he said this, the poor fellow broke down, bowed his head on the showcase and cried like a child. "Boys," continued the drummer,

"You may laugh if you please, but I have a baby at home, and I swear I'll never take another drink!"

EFFECTS OF BEER DRINKING

(Shortens One's Life From 40 to 50 Per Cent, According to Figuring of Insurance Companies.)

The life insurance companies make a business of estimating men's lives, and can only make money by making correct estimates of whatever their business life. Now they expect a man otherwise healthy, who is addicted to beer drinking, will have his life shortened from 40 to 50 per cent. For instance, if he is twenty years old and does not drink beer he may reasonably expect to live until he is 40. If he is a beer drinker he will probably not live to be over 35. If he is 30 years old when he begins to drink beer he will probably drop out somewhere between 30 and 35 instead of living to 40 as he should. There is no sentiment, prejudice or assertion about these figures. They are simply unbiased business facts, derived from experience, and the companies make their money on them just the same as when they pay so many dollars for so many feet of ground or bushels of wheat.—Dr. S. S. Thorn, Toledo, Ohio, in U. S. Senate Document.

Making the Best of Life.

It is not by regretting what is irreparable that true work is to be done; but by making the best of what we are. It is not by complaining that

COMMON BUSHES ALL IN FLAME

Deduction Drawn From Miracle Revealed in the Text of the Holy Scriptures.

WHEN Moses in the land of Mid-ian obtained the great vision which constituted his call to the leadership of Israel he was occupied with the ordinary tasks of life—he was simply doing his duty in a prosaic way. He was tending the sheep, and ruminating on great questions, idealizing his common tasks, and so preparing himself for greater service later on.

By faithfully serving in a lowly capacity, Moses was led into just that humble frame of mind which later led to his promotion to larger responsibilities. His promotion came through a personal touch of the powers of heaven upon his life. It is often so—the "common round" brings man suddenly face to face with God.

There is no telling around which turn of the road the angels may next meet us. As Moses was leading his flock he "came to the mountain of God"— and an angel of God appeared to him in a flame of fire.

With a seared ingrativness Moses turned aside to learn the meaning of the strange sight that met his eyes.

What interested and surprised him was not just a bush—Moses came across plenty of brambles in the land of Midian, and had often torn his flesh on their thorns; nor was it the sight of a burning bush, for Moses had seen many bonfires along the ridges of the hills that cut into the deserts. The wonder was that the bush, while burning, did not burn—that it was not consumed. We do not know just what the nature of this miracle was, for we do not know the nature of any miracle, nor of life itself, which is one great wonder. It is sufficient for the moral purpose of this epistle to recognize that the burning bush was the scene and seat of some extraordinary (and yet not necessarily irrational or unnatural) phenomenal manifestation of the power and presence of Jehovah.

In a sense, God was in that bush, as he might be said to be in a "still, small voice"—not that the Deity is pantheistically merged in the phenomena of the world which he has created, but that he is dynamically at work in all the processes of nature, whether in those which we have plotted down a few days here and there, as to discovered "laws," called "natural," or those in which, not having been plotted as yet, men regard as extraordinary, or "miraculous."

The most important point in this incident is the sign that it gave Moses of the dynamic presence of Jehovah in all his life, and intermediately in our lives too. So very much was God in that place that the wonderful shepherd was told to slip on his sandals, for the very earth upon which he stood was "holy ground." By this revelation of God to him, Moses' life was at once lifted to a higher plane.

Yet it was not a motion in a worldly sense that did this—not just a change of tasks, though Moses was indeed, thereafter called to more conspicuous duties—but a heightening of moral ideal, the increase of consecration, and the broader scope of social sympathy that came when Moses met

VIEWS OF EX-SALOONKEEPER

Former Owner of Many Dramshops Details Some of His Experiences—

Drunkard Is Idiot

Ben Parker, at one time the owner of many saloons in Des Moines, backed heavily by the brewing interests, who afterward gave up the business, says of his former experience:

"I defy any man to present one single argument that will stand the acid of criticism in favor of the liquor game. I have witnessed the working man spend for drink the money that ought to have bought shoes for his children; have watched the business man spend money over the saloon bar that belonged to other people, and I have been particeps criminis to more woe than the hubotic plague ever spread in its most aggressive form.

I tell you that the drunkard is more to be pitied than censured. He is a helpless, weak-brained idiot, and is fostered in his prostration by the evils of his surroundings. If all men were strong-minded the saloon would soon go out of business, but unfortunately most men are weaker than their environment and fall before the allurements of vice. It is the absolute removal of these surroundings that will assure the betterment of society, and the way to do it is to stamp out the saloon, the brewery and the distillery.

It will require the united effort of the strong to bring about the desired end."

SALOONS MISSED HIS WAGES

Entombed Miner Was Glad One Pay

Day Passed Without Saloonkeepers Getting His Pay.

In one of the mines of Pennsylvania there was a cave-in which imprisoned a miner named Jack Thornton. The accident happened on Friday afternoon, and the fellow laborers of the entombed man set to work at once to dig him out. It was not until Sunday morning, however, that they reached his prison chamber, and by this time they were wondering whether he had been suffocated or starved to death. One of them stuck his head through the aperture made by the picks of the rescuers, and called out:

"Jack, are you all right?"

"All right," came the reply, and then, after a pause, "What day is this?"

"Sunday," answered the friend.

"Good," exclaimed Jack. "I'm glad of that. That was one Saturday night when those saloonkeepers didn't get my wages."

BACK DOOR TO THE SALOON

Made Use of by Liquor Dealers to Cast Out Those No Longer Profitable to Their Trade.

It is said that it is better to have the "front doors" of a saloon open than its "back doors." Many of us think that it is much better that any business, which tends to the demoralization of a community, should be done on the sly, and in violation of law, and amid conditions tending to disgust and repel, rather than under the sanction of law, and with sur-

Women!

If weak, you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from gentle herbs, acts in a natural manner, and has no bad results, as some of the strong drugs sometimes used. As a medicine—a tonic—for weak, tired, worn-out women, Cardui has been a popular success for over 50 years.

The CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Lulu Walden, of Gramlin, S. C., followed this advice. Read her letter: "I was so weak, when I first began to take Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Now, I can do all the general housework, for a family of 9." Try Cardui for your troubles. It may be the very remedy you need.

Accuracy in Printing.

None but the initiated know the accuracy required in a printing office. The average reader who detects a misspelled word or a letter upside down feels that his mission on earth is not accomplished until he has called the attention of the overworked editor to the glaring defect. He does not notice the thousands and tens of thousands of letters that are in place of the multitude of words correctly spelled, but his eagle eye is glued on the one that is out of place. So it is with our deeds. Man does a thousand good deeds, and no attention is paid to them, but if he makes one mistake it is flashed all over the world. A lifetime may be spent in building up a reputation that may be wrecked in a moment. The world is a harsh critic, exacting to a fault.—Exchange.

ALCOHOL BRINGS ONLY HARM

German Ministry of Education Discourages Use of Wine, Beer and Brandy by Children.

The German ministry of education recently approved the following notice to be distributed by the board of health:

Give your children not a drop of wine! Not a drop of beer! Not a drop of brandy!

Why! Because alcohol of any kind, even in the smallest quantity, brings only harm.

1. Alcohol checks bodily and mental development.
2. Alcohol leads quickly to exhaustion and makes heaviness and inattention in school.
3. Alcohol causes disobedience to parents.
4. Alcohol develops sleeplessness and early nervousness.
5. Alcohol endangers the mortality of children.
6. Alcohol weakens the resisting power of the body and thereby leads to the development of all kinds of diseases.
7. Alcohol prolongs the duration of every illness.
8. Alcohol continually awakens renewed thirst, and on that account leads easily to habits of drinking.

INJURY WROUGHT BY ALCOHOL

Same Effects and Conditions as Produced by Vitiated Air—Interferes With Repair of Tissues.

Many of you have been in a close room, and after a time you have felt a sense of suffocation; your face has got flushed and you have felt a headache coming on, and you have felt a lassitude which is very characteristic of the want of fresh air, or the condition produced by fresh air in a room. Alcohol produces exactly the same conditions, exactly the same effects; it produces exactly the same lassitude. First of all it produces a feeling of well-being because it impairs sensation, but after a time it induces a condition of lassitude, the face becomes flushed, the head very often aches simply because alcohol is acting in the same way that the bad air in a room acts. It interferes with the repair of the tissues, thus getting rid of the waste of the tissues and the work of the tissues.—Dr. Sims Woodhead.

ALCOHOL KILLS BY INCHES

Moderate Drinker Destroys One-Third of "White Bodyguard"—Susceptible to Disease.

Physiology shows just how alcohol kills "by inches," or more accurately speaking, by millimeters. In one millimeter of blood a total abstainer will have about 75,000 "little white soldiers" (leucocytes or white corpuscles), a moderate drinker only 50,000, for defense against the army of microbes, germs and parasites, armed with poisoned arrows, that every hour rush into our mouths, and enter every scratch or wound or other broken place in our wall of flesh. Alcohol burns up one-third of the "white body guard" in the moderate drinker.

Mr. Edison's Attitude.
"I am a total abstainer from alcoholic liquors," said Thomas A. Edison. "I always felt I had a better use for my head."

Not long ago a W. C. T. U. woman noticing Mr. Edison's pictured face in connection with an advertisement of whisky, wrote to the "Wizard of Menlo Park" in regard to the matter. She received a prompt response from one of his representatives, saying, "The use of Mr. Edison's name and picture in connection with the advertisement to which you refer is entirely unauthorized, and further is highly objectionable to Mr. Edison."

Beer-Made Flesh Is Diseased.
Do not forget that the fat caused by beer drinking is a sign of disease because, as is well known, beer prevents the oxidation of those substances which form superfluous fat in the body. Physicians nearly all agree that sickness is far more dangerous to beer-drinkers than to non-drinkers, and that serious accidents are usually fatal to them.

Aims of W. C. T. U.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is not only anti-saloon but anti-brewery, anti-distillery, and any form of alcoholic liquor making or liquor selling for beverage purposes. The "trade" hates and fears a law that closes the saloons. It hates and fears still more the law that closes the saloon, the brewery and the distillery.—Lillian M. Stevens.

To Be and to Do.
There are no times in life when opportunity, the chance to be and to do, gathers so richly about the soul as when it has to suffer. Then everything depends on whether the man turns to the lower or the higher helps. If he resorts to mere experience and tricks, the opportunity is lost; he comes out no richer or greater; nay, he comes out harder, poorer, smaller, for his pain. But if he turns to God, the hour of suffering is the turning point of his life.—Phillips Brooks, D. D.
